Holidays/Celebrations/Observances

21 Frostfall

Night of Lights:

Candles, lanterns, torches, and bonfires are lit all night to celebrate the lengthening days, and to ward off the encroaching night.

36 Frostfall

High Dulmarth:

A feastday meant to encourage reflection on the good that is happening in the world and in your life. Complaining goes against the spirit of this day and a complainer may find himself doused with a bucket of water to wash away bad luck.

91 Frostfall

Winternight (El-Morin's Night):

A night spent in solitude, or with close family, to mark the last day of winter.

1 Bloom

Festival of Eva:

Celebration of spring's arrival. Contests and competitions are prevalent from small hamlets to large cities.

20 Bloom

Fey Equinox:

The day when the barriers between the Prime Material Plane and the Feywild are at their weakest.

46 Bloom

Vagabonds Day:

A day celebrating visitors and travelers. It is customary to have baked sweets available for anyone stopping by on their way through town. Temples and churches of Loial give food and comfort for any wanderer who may need it.

57 Bloom

Byron's Dedication:

A day where plays, musicians, poets, and bards preform and are showered with small coin and food. Smiths and Forgemasters also display specialty made items and trinkets.

75 Bloom

All Fools Day:

A day for playing pranks on your friends and family. Tithes to Ishtar and Ban-ath are customary.

91 Bloom

Festival of Equals:

On this day nobles are encouraged to throw a feast and invite everyone, mingle with the common folk, and be seen by the community.

21 Soltine

Soltine Solstice:

A day for festival, feasting, and competition. Those few who worship Vandur are more fervent.

46 Soltine

Kirallin's Heart:

Day with lots of marriages and proposals. Locals use it as an excuse to get drunk and push off work for a day.

58 Soltine

Children's Day:

On this day children are encouraged to play outside. They can go door to door singing songs in exchange for sweets.

91 Soltine

Farmsteads Glory:

A day of eating and merriment for the celebration honoring farmers. Participants are encouraged to make and share food with everyone. It would be ill-mannered to leave even a crumb uneaten. Hot pastries stuffed with meat are a traditional food for this holiday.

15 Harvestide

Festival of Masks/Ban-ath's Night:

The holiday entails men, women, and children wearing Masks in the shape of birds, animals, or Monsters. High society members often throw extravagant balls during the Night. Also known as Ban-ath's Night.

23 Harvestide

Equinox of Shadow:

The day when the barriers between the Prime Material Plane and the Shadowfell are at their weakest.

41 Harvestide

Reconciliation:

A day to let go and forget all your old grudges. The intent is for it to be peaceful, but there have been incidents of disagreements being settled in a more brutal way, especially among the nobility.

57 Harvestide

Day of Rest:

On this holiday, any sort of labor is avoided. The food is always cooked the day before, and much drinking and trick playing is encouraged. Inns and Taverns remain open, a place for merriment and indulgence.

91 Harvestide

Feast of Kulindra:

A feast remembering the dead, celebrated in a joyful way. Small shrines and effigies are set up by the loved ones of the dearly departed.
